Comments: (such as, notable birds seen, interesting bird or animal behavior, condition of the birding site, participant comments):

We had a fantastic day weather wise and with the birds. Although the birds were not very vocal, they were very active, especially around the path that goes around the ball fields. A lot of Pine Trees in this area. The trails in this park are good but in sections there are a lot of tree roots to walk over, so we mostly followed the road down to the lake and back up. As the warblers are heading south, we are also seeing the birds that winter with us arrive. All in all, a great day.
